This is responsive to the Request for Continued Examination and amendment filed April 16, 2007.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

1. Claims 26, 28 and 30 define a composition comprising a m-xylylenediamine epoxy resin and a reaction product consisting essentially of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine, (B) particular species of acyl group(s)-containing compound and (C) certain species of monocarboxylic acid.
2. Claims 34-37 denotes a coated film comprising a gas barrier layer derived from an epoxy resin and the reaction product of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine, (B) an acyl group(s)-containing compound and (C) certain species of monocarboxylic acid.
3. Claims 48-58 require a multi-layered laminate having a gas barrier layer prepared from an epoxy resin and the reaction product of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine, (B) an acyl group(s)-containing compound and (C) certain species of monocarboxylic acid.
4. The aforementioned claims 26, 28 and 30 were deemed to be allowable since none of the prior art recites the claimed species of monocarboxylic acid (C) in the non-Final rejection mailed August 2, 2006 on page 5, paragraph 6.

Art Unit: 1712

Claims 34-37 and 48-58 were deemed to be allowable since they also require the species of monocarboxylic acid (C) and the terminal disclaimers filed March 11, 2005 and November 2, 2006 overcame the obviousness-type double patenting rejections over copending application nos. 10/488,684 and 10/516,956 and U.S. Patent No. 6,861,147 as explained in the Final rejection mailed November 15, 2006 on page 2, paragraph 2.

5. New claims 59-61 are directed to a coated film comprising a gas barrier layer obtained from a m-xylylenediamine epoxy resin and a reaction product consisting of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine and (B) particular species of acyl group(s)-containing compound.

6. New claims 62-64 are drawn to a coated film comprising a gas barrier layer obtained from a m-xylylenediamine epoxy resin and a mixture consisting of a reaction product consisting of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine and (B) particular species of acyl group(s)-containing compound, and a non-reactive solvent, catalyst and/or tertiary amine.

7. New claims 65-74 pertain to a multi-layered laminate having a gas barrier layer derived from a m-xylylenediamine epoxy resin and a reaction product consisting of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine and (B) particular species of acyl group(s)-containing compound.

Art Unit: 1712

8. New claims 75-84 set forth a multi-layered laminate having a gas barrier layer produced from a m-xylylenediamine epoxy resin and a mixture consisting of a reaction product consisting of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine and (B) particular species of acyl group(s)-containing compound, and a non-reactive solvent, catalyst and/or tertiary amine.

The new claims are supported by the specification.

9. The closest prior art to Japanese Patent Nos. 8-104738 and 63-301264 are inapplicable to the new claims limited to an amine curing agent "consisting of" the reaction product of (A) m- or p-xylylenediamine and (B) particular species of acyl group(s)-containing compound (claims 59-61 and 65-74) and a non-reactive solvent, catalyst and/or tertiary amine (claims 62-64 and 75-84). The fatty amine compound (B) of Japanese Patent No. 8-104738 and the polyamideamine of Japanese Patent No. 63-301264 is precluded by the "consisting of" claim language. Claims 62-64 and 65-74 confined to pyridine, picoline, lutidine and trialkylamine as the tertiary amine does not include the species of tertiary amine as the fatty amine compound (B) of Japanese Patent No. 8-104738 since none of these species are disclosed therein on page 3, paragraphs 17 and 18 of the translation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
